We take pleasure to Report to the

People of Dunbarton

That we have increased our business four times in the last five years. While we have done this by selling a

NICE QUALITY OF GOODS

at very small profit using every one equal and justly we feel that the patronage we have received from Dunbarton has been a large factor in our growth we take this method to thank you one and all.

During the winter months we have reduced our stock to such an extent that we are practically showing a new stock, with,

Lower Prices and Better Styles.

Baby Carriages all finished bodies from $4.00 to $24.

10 pce Hard-wood Chamber Sets, " 15.00 to 85.00

7 " Parlor Suits, Mohair or Plush, 24.75 to 240.00

Carpets, Oil Cloths, Stoves, Tin and Glassware, Room paper, Etc. Make our store your headquarters.

REPORT OF THE DUNBARTON FREE LIBRARY.

The Library was established in Oct. 1893 with ninety-five books given by the State, (the other five not coming for six months after.)

It has now become a library of over several hundred volumes, two hundred and fifty were presented by Miss Etta Peck, and three hundred and forty loaned by the Library Association, these are subject to the same rules and regulations of the Free Library. One hundred and twelve cards have been taken and the average circulation is seventy books per week.

A Distributing Agency has been started at North Dunbarton under the care of Mrs. D. P. Walker.

We wish more of these could be taken in different parts of the town and in this way all could share alike.

We hope the citizens of this town will make an appropriation for new books, if only a small amount, and not, depend wholly on donations.

A free gift is not appreciated sometimes as much as one that costs a little something.

HANNAH K. CALDWELL, Librarian.
